SECTION A—GENERAL

1. Purpose and Scope. This Regulation establishes the responsibilities and provides the medium for reporting data concerning the individual real estate interests that comprise an installation for all planned, approved, acquired, outgranted, or disposed-of real estate. The data provided in compliance with the procedures prescribed herein also will be used as a perpetual inventory. This record includes all land areas and general or special purpose space, and reflects the degrees and types of interest acquired by the Government or the Department of the Air Force in each real estate transaction. Installations normally classified as contractor-operated facilities for production or modification and/or research and development of aircraft and related procurement are not considered within the provisions of this Regulation. Standby plants used for this purpose are included herein. Procedures established in this Regulation, and reporting requirements therein, are published for information, guidance, and compliance of all Air Force activities except those located in an officially designated combat zone.

2. Office of Record. Reports required by this Regulation will be retained in the Directorate of Real Property, Headquarters USAF, until they become noncurrent at which time disposition will be effected in accordance with AFM 181-5. The inventory established from these reports will serve as a source for dissemination of real estate data to the Congress, the Department of Defense, the Air Staff, and other Government agencies.

3. Background:

a. Under the National Security Act of 1947 the Department of the Air Force was established as a separate service. The Office, Chief of Engineers, was designated the real estate agent for the Department of the Air Force. A bulk transfer of selected installations was effected between the Departments of the Army and the Air Force. In keeping with the economy of the times this transfer was effected without benefit of inventories. A working agreement was reached with the Office, Chief of Engineers, which is general in nature and provides for retention of all title documents by the Office, Chief of Engineers. Documents negotiated subsequent to this working agreement and not conveying title are furnished for the files of the Department of the Air Force.

b. With the coming of the Korean crisis and the subsequent growth of the Air Force, activities in the real estate field increased rapidly. Records pertaining to these activities have not kept abreast of utilization of real estate by Air Force units in the field.

For planning and budgeting command requirements in the acquisition and disposal of real estate in the field, the need for reconciliation of data furnished by the Office, Chief of Engineers, with actual utilization of such real estate in the field, is apparent.

4. Guides and Rudiments of Real Estate. The procedures in this Regulation are designed to isolate the various real estate interests which collectively make up an Air Force installation. In order that field activities may readily identify the interest to be conveyed in each transaction, basic principles peculiar to commercial real estate practice and definitions applied thereto are outlined below. These principles reflect the many possible combinations which may be encountered by activities in the field and the necessity for proper interpretation of real estate documents.

These guides are not to be construed as firm definitions.

a. Air Force Installation. An Air Force Installation is a separately located and defined area of real property in which the Air Force exercises a real property interest; or where the Air Force has jurisdiction over real property by agreement, expressed or implied, with foreign governments, or by rights of occupation.

b. Sources of Real Estate Law. In each of the States of the United States, two separate systems of law are in force: Federal law and State law. With few exceptions, Federal laws operate uniformly throughout the country. Each State, however, has its own Constitution, laws and court decisions, and it is primarily to these local sources that the Air Force must look for real estate law. Due to differences in local conditions, laws on real estate vary from State to State. These differences must be kept constantly in mind by negotiating activities in the field and by personnel concerned with the reporting requirements presented by this Regulation.

c. Land. Land includes not only the ground or soil, but everything which is naturally attached to the earth, such as trees and herbage; it includes not only the surface of the earth but everything under it and over it. Thus, in theory, a tract or parcel of land consists not only of the portion on the surface of the earth, but is an inverted pyramid having its tip at the center of the earth and extending outward through the surface of the earth at the boundary lines of the tract and continuing on upwards to the heavens. (See figure 1.)

d. Minerals. Since land extends to the center of the earth, ordinarily the owner of the land also owns the minerals beneath the surface. The land owner of record may sell all or a part of the land and retain the minerals for himself or he may sell the minerals and retain the land for himself. An owner of minerals, though he has not acquired ownership of the surface of the land, unless otherwise restricted, may have certain rights over the surface in order to develop the minerals. This ruling varies throughout the country and care should be exercised in determining the exact interest acquired by the Government or by the Air Force in each instance. The question arises whether the interest acquired consists of the surface acreage of the land or merely of rights to minerals beneath the surface—or both. Normally, when a surface area is acquired in fee without mention of the minerals in the document of conveyance, the minerals automatically are transferred or are considered a part of the transaction.

e. Oil and Gas. Oil and gas beneath the surface of the earth usually are considered to be minerals. They are subject to sale separately and apart from the surface of the earth. This usually is accomplished by means of an "oil lease" which confers upon the lessee the right to capture and extract the oil and gas lying beneath the surface of that tract described in the oil lease. Oil and gas are migratory, therefore the general rule is that the holder of an oil lease does not claim title to these minerals until they actually are pumped to the surface of the ground. In this reporting system, care must be exercised in reporting real estate actions of this type since an oil lease does not convey areas on the surface of the earth. Special instructions relative to treatment of gas and oil under lands used by the Air Force have been issued to acquisition agencies. In general, these instructions provide that gas and oil leases will be negotiated only where seepage of such minerals exists.

f. Air Rights. Just as an owner may sell the minerals lying beneath the surface of the earth, so he may sell the space above the surface of the earth. The theory that one's land extends to the sky is adequate when dealing with simple questions. With the coming of the airplane, however, common sense repels the notion that the flight of aircraft over one's land creates a trespass over that land. Thus it would seem that the flight of aircraft at high altitudes, without inconvenience to a land owner, is not a violation of his rights. On the other hand it would appear that when an aircraft is flying at low altitudes over one's property, either in taking off or landing, a land owner's rights may be invaded. Thus the need for aviation easements—to acquire the right to fly low over a land owner's property. Such easements do not convey or transfer acreage on the surface of the earth but merely provide for use of a given area of space above the surface of the earth.

g. Easements. As with an easement to operate aircraft at low altitudes over space above the surface of the earth, so too easements may be obtained or negotiated for other purposes incidental to the operation of an Air Force installation. An easement is a right which one person has to use the lands of another for a special purpose. Thus easements can be negotiated for the removal of hazards, the establishment of building restrictions in areas adjacent to installations, the establishment of safety areas, and so forth. These purposes are numerous and varied; the duration of such easements and the costs incident thereto also vary. Proper interpretation of the interest and status of the easement is necessary prior to reporting the action to Headquarters USAF. Assistance from the acquisition agencies will be solicited where necessary.

h. Lease. A lease is a contract. It conveys from the landlord to the tenant the right to occupy the property described, for a term and for the purposes specified in the lease. It reflects the rent or consideration to be paid by the tenant and cites other provisions peculiar to the contract so made. Lease provisions and local laws pertaining to a lease contract offer many variations. Thus, some states require that leases be recorded while others do not; some provide that leases for a term less than a year need not be in writing; leases may be cancelled, renewed, or may expire by their own terms; a lease may be extended or modified by an amendment to the original lease. In view of the many possible variations, the intent of the lease must be properly interpreted. The assistance of the acquisition agency should be solicited where necessary.

i. Ownership. Ownership of real estate is transferred from one owner to another by "deed." There are many forms of deeds. The type deed to be used to effect a transfer of property is dictated by the varying facts and conditions surrounding the transaction. All real estate acquired for use by Government agencies is acquired in the name of the Government. Subsequent to such acquisition, the real estate so acquired is in turn "assigned" to the Government agency which initiated or generated the request for the acquisition. Due to the legal aspects involved, the varying opinions of the courts in the individual States, and the language peculiar to this type of document, this Regulation does not require retention and interpretation of deeds in the field. The Office, Chief of Engineers, has been designated the primary acquisition agent for the Air Force. All real estate acquired by that agency on behalf of the Air Force is assigned direct to the using installation on an OCE Form 290, "Transfer of New Construction." A copy of the deed pertaining to such acquisition is retained by the acquisition agent. The original deed is retained in the Records Branch, Lands Division, Office Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army. Installations submitting reports required by this Regulation will ascertain that prior to affixing signatures of acceptance to OCE Form 290 the form is sufficiently complete to make reporting possible.

j. Condemnation. The following terms, peculiar to the acquisition of land are defined. These terms are interchangeable but for purposes of this report are preferred to indicate the acquisition of real property interest through court proceeding, as distinguished from acquisition by purchase.

(1) Eminent Domain—The right or power of the Government to take property for public use upon payment of just compensation therefor.

(2) Condemnation—The exercise of the right or power of eminent domain by the Government. Acquisition of land by condemnation is authorized by law. This authorization extends to States, municipalities, and certain public utility companies acting in the public interest. This report, however, is concerned only with the institution of condemnation proceedings by the Government. Such condemnation proceeding is filed only as a last resort and usually for the following reasons:

- (a) Immediate possession of the property may be required for construction purposes.
- (b) The owners may be unable to convey a good title to the property.
- (c) The owners may disagree with respect to the price to be paid for the property.
- (d) The owner cannot be located.

(3) Condemnation Suit—The proceeding instituted in court to accomplish the taking of property. In order that the requirements of the Federal Government may be met, a petition to condemn or a "Declaration of Taking" is filed with the court, and just compensation for the property is deposited into the registry of the court. When such a proceeding is filed in court, possession usually is requested and granted by the court. A declaration of taking is merely a proceeding authorized by law which, when filed and when just compensation is deposited into the registry of the court, immediately vests title in the Government. A declaration of taking may be instituted for a lease-hold, an easement, a fee acquisition, or other type of interest desired by the Government.

k. Outgrants. The Air Force, having acquired real estate by fee, lease, easement, or other type of interest, is obligated in the interest of economy to make full use of all such real estate or immediately to take steps to dispose of real estate no longer required. Where real estate necessary to the physical makeup of an Air Force installation has been acquired, but its utilization or productivity can be increased by allowing private or local governments to sponsor commercial enterprises, this real estate may be "outgranted" for such purposes to insure maximum utilization. Normally, this outgrant is in the form of a short-term lease for such purposes as grazing, fishing, farming, and so forth. Reporting activities must bear in mind that areas involved in outgrants merely reflect utilization being made of the real estate concerned. This real estate will neither be added to nor subtracted from the over-all installation inventory.

l. Excess. Air Force real estate which has been determined by Headquarters USAF to be excess to the current or anticipated requirements of the Air Force.

m. Surplus. Real estate declared excess to the needs of the Air Force, other military services and Government agencies, which no longer is required for retention by the Government, and is reported to the Office, Chief of Engineers, for necessary disposal.

5. Report Forms. The basic report forms and responsible initiating activities are:

a. AF Form 1154, "USAF Real Estate Report of Action," RCS: 1-AF-Z21. This is a multipurpose form on which is reported detailed real estate information for a specified real estate action. These real estate actions range from the budgetary submittals and Congressional approval for the acquisition of real estate interests, to the reporting of such acquisitions, and subsequent outgrants and disposals. Complete columnar instructions for filling out AF Form 1154 and details on WHO, WHEN, WHAT, WHERE, AND HOW to report each type of real estate action are contained in sections B, C, and D of this Regulation.

b. AF Form 1192, "USAF Installations Characteristics Report," RCS: 2-AF-Z21. This is the medium prescribed herein for collecting and maintaining pertinent vital statistics, related to an installation. Complete instructions for the completion of this form are contained in section E of this Regulation.

c. Real Estate Inventory Summary. A summary listing, compiled from data submitted on AF Forms 1154 and 1192 will be mechanically prepared in Headquarters USAF. This summary listing will represent the current inventory status of real estate interests for all Air Force installations, and will be distributed to the major air commands periodically—for informational purposes, for use as an aid in monitoring their responsibilities within the scope of this Regulation, and as a guide for planning purposes.

6. Flow of Reported Data. Basically, the flow of data evolves around:

a. The preparation of AF Form 1154 by all echelons concerned with real estate matters.

b. The submission of two copies of this form to the Real Estate Division, Director of Real Property, Headquarters USAF.

c. The mechanized recording of the data reported on the forms so submitted.

d. The compilation of summaries and reports in Headquarters USAF for distribution to Congressional Committees, the Air Staff, other Government agencies and the reporting commands. (See figure 2.)

7. Timely Reports. Timely submission of AF Form 1154 to Headquarters USAF is essential. Such submission will be made monthly as of the last day of the month, and submitted within 10 days subsequent thereto. A USAF Real Estate Report of Action is required for each type of action involving a change in the status of any real estate interest in property used by the Air Force. Negative reports are required for those installations at which no real estate actions have been taken during the reporting period.

8. Security Classification. Normally, AF Form 1154 as submitted by the major air commands will contain information which has been made a matter of record in books of the jurisdictional political subdivisions. These books are public property and the assignment of a classification would be superfluous. The provisions of paragraph 25, AFR 205-1, 15 December 1953, will be applied in determining the appropriate classification in each instance.

a. Reports requiring classification will be submitted under separate cover. Unclassified reports will not be attached to classified reports.

b. Reports concerning projects or installations whose very existence is highly classified will be given the classification assigned the installation or project.

9. Responsibilities:

a. Headquarters USAF. Staff offices within Headquarters USAF, will:

- (1) Initiate, develop, and review detailed instructions for all real estate procedures prescribed herein.
- (2) Initiate and develop required reporting forms, summaries, and so forth, applicable to procedures prescribed herein.
- (3) Develop and furnish "K" category data for inclusion in the "USAF Installations Facilities and Structures Catalog."

(4) Mechanically record real estate data transmitted on AF Form 1154 reports.

(5) Prepare summaries, reports, and analyses of recorded real estate data.

b. Major Air Commands. The fundamental principles and basic procedures prescribed by this Regulation are applicable to all major air commands, including the Air Force Finance Division. Commands not having real estate functions (that is, commands that are tenants on installations of other commands) are exempt from the responsibilities and provisions of this Regulation. The commanders of major air commands will:

- (1) Develop implementing instructions to insure accurate reporting under procedures prescribed by this Regulation.
- (2) Review prepared AF Form 1154 reports originating within their respective commands, to insure completeness and compliance with procedures outlined herein.
- (3) Monitor the reporting of real estate actions, to insure timely submission of reports.
- (4) Account for all real estate interests assigned to the jurisdiction of their respective command.
- (5) Insure that all real estate on each installation is properly identified and reported.
- (6) Insure the establishment and maintenance of real estate files at base level.
- (7) Insure that base commanders maintain a constant liaison with appropriate District Engineers or other acquisition agencies.
- (8) Insure that sufficient back-up data is solicited from the acquisition agencies to remove all elements of speculation as to the exact extent and degree of interest on each installation.

c. Reporting Static Installations. Installations not assigned to a parent installation, such as shoran stations or bomb scoring sites, will be considered as static installations for reporting purposes. Such installations will be reported by the major air command concerned or as the major air command may direct.

10. Supply of Forms. AF Forms 1154 and 1192 will be requisitioned through supply channels.

- (1) The installation indicated in item "B" is affected by this real estate action.
- (2) Check the appropriate box identifying the reporting activity.

b. Item G—Type of Action:

- (1) Use a USAF Real Estate Report of Action for each real estate action indicated, regardless of the number of entries for a particular type of action.
- (2) Check the appropriate box indicating the type of action being reported.
- (3) Report each different type of action on a separate form.

15. Justification Entries, Area "C" (see figure 3):

- (2) Sub. Indicate each modification or supplement to a document by a sequence number, starting with "1." This column also will be used to identify the initial or adjusted cost of a lease as a separate line entry, as differing from the annual cost of the lease. The code number "99" will be used for this purpose. (See figure 8.)

c. Column N—Date. Enter the effective date shown on document being reported. This is the effective date indicated in the document and not the date of the document itself. Where no effective date is indicated the intended date will be entered.

17. Amount Entries, Area "E" (see figure 3):

a. Column O—Unit of Measure. Enter the appropriate letter. The letter "A" denotes acreage and "S" square feet.

b. Column P—Area:

- (1) Area "+" or "-." If the area of the action reported is negative, or is to be subtracted from the total for that type of action, insert a minus sign "-" in the appropriate column. If the area reported is positive or to be added to the total for that type of action, insert a plus sign "+" in the appropriate column.
- (2) Square Feet and Acres. Indicate the number of acres or square feet in the appropriate column. Portions of acres will not appear in this column.

- (3) "1/100." Express portions of acres in nearest hundredths of acres in this column.

c. Column Q—Cost:

- (1) Cost "+" or "-." If the dollar figure is negative or should be subtracted from the total for that type of action, insert a minus sign "-" in the appropriate column. If the cost being reported is positive, or to be added to the total for that type of action, insert a plus sign "+" in the appropriate column.
- (2) Dollars. Enter the monetary consideration to the nearest dollar. Initial or adjusted costs on leases will be separated from the annual or fixed cost and entered as separate line entries. c. Column T—Public Law, Authorization. Enter the Authorization Public Law number which authorizes the acquisition of the real estate land item.

d. Column U—Public Law, Appropriation. Enter the Appropriation Public Law number which finances the acquisition of the real estate land item.

19. Control Totals, Signature, and Processing Control Entries, Area "G" (see figure 3):

a. Item V—Voucher Number and Date. To be inserted by Headquarters USAF.

b. Items W and X—Control Totals. The various items included in each USAF Real Estate Report of Action will be supported by its respective area and cost. The reporting source will strike a balance of these columns and enter the net totals for both the area and cost columns, regardless of the fact the control totals may represent both acres and square feet. These totals are used for control purposes only.

c. Signature. The signature block will be completed by or in behalf of commanders or staff officers concerned.

d. Remarks. This column will be used for: brief clarifying notes where necessary; to reflect the name of vendor as indicated on lease or easement document; to explain provisions peculiar to joint use of airports or facilities; to reflect the appraised or estimated round figure value of the land and every building acquired under each lease; the building number of each leased building; and so forth.

SECTION C—REPORTING GUIDES

20. Field Records:

a. As a general policy, the following documents are desired as a component part of installation real property records:

Type of Interest	Type of Instrument
Fee	OCE Form 290
Transfer	Copy of Transfer
Lease	Copy of Lease
Permit	Copy of Permit
Easement	Copy of Easement
License	Copy of License
Condemnation	Letter of Notice from OCE

b. A current, audited real estate map is essential for each installation. In the absence of an audited map, a final project map should be obtained from the acquisition agency concerned. OCE Form 290, "Transfer of New Construction," should adequately describe the real property being transferred and should reflect the cost breakdown incident to acquisition of the property so described. In addition, such information as may be necessary to make reporting possible under this reporting requirement should be contained thereon prior to acceptance by base commanders.

c. Air Force requirements to support installation real property records in the field have been outlined to the Office, Chief of Engineers. Instruments furnished by that agency need not necessarily be the originals of such instruments.

21. Leases-In:

a. To Be Reported:

- (1) All numbered leases, with changes thereto.
- (2) All unnumbered leases, with changes thereto.
- (3) All condemnation leases, with changes thereto.
- (4) The duration of the lease.

- (5) The purpose or justification for the lease.
- (6) The annual costs indicated in the lease.
- (7) The initial costs of a lease, where applicable.
- (8) The renewal notice required in each case.
- (9) The cancellation or termination of a lease. (Report as a disposal.)
- (10) Land leased, that is subject to recapture (K515-200) and National Security clause, will be reported under that real estate catalog number. Any leased land reported under this number will not be duplicated by reporting it under leased land from Private Enterprise (K515-400) or leased land from State or Local Government (K515-600), that is not subject to recapture. All other leased land will be reported as (K515-400) Private Enterprise, or (K515-600) State and Local Government.
- (11) All General Services Administration (GSA) assigned space. See special instructions in paragraph 28.

b. Not To Be Reported:

- (1) Amendments or modifications to leases changing provisions not affecting items reflected in a above, such as changes in finance officer, maintenance provisions, and so forth. These do not affect the surface land or space area being leased.
- (2) Oil, water, and mineral leases. Report the lease but not the area since this type of lease does not affect the surface or space area.
- (3) Unwritten leases.
- (4) On-base housing.
- (5) Leases negotiated subsequent to June 1950 and terminated prior to the effective date of this Regulation.

22. Leases-Out:

Acreages and costs will be those reflected as of a right-of-entry, or at the time of filing of the declaration of taking in the Courts. This information will be solicited from the acquisition agency.

27. Space Reporting:

a. GSA Space. Space obtained by General Services Administration for assignment to the Air Force will be reported as follows:

- (1) Complete item BB if space is under control of a parent installation.
- (2) Reflect city and address in column B, such as "Baltimore/315 Fallsway Rd."
- (3) Complete all other columns except H, T, and U.
- (4) Show the name of lessor in the Remarks column.
- (5) Use GSA-assigned lease number for entry in column M. This number will be obtained from GSA Regional Office where necessary.

b. Non-GSA Space. All combined leases reflecting combinations of land and buildings or groups of buildings under lease, other than GSA-assigned space, and having a lump sum cost will be reported as a group. Each building will be assigned a building number for positive identification for the duration of the lease.

- (1) In land and building combinations, list the land data first. Complete all columns except columns H, T, and U.

Apply total cost of entire lease to the land entry in column Q.

- (2) List each building as an individual line entry. Complete all columns except H, T, and U. Enter an asterisk in column Q to indicate costs charged to land entry.
- (3) Enter assigned building number in left-hand portion of the Remarks column followed by the estimated appraised value of the building being reported. (Example: #314—$15,000.) (See note.)
- (4) In building combinations reflected in a lease without land items, indicate the main building as the first line item. Cost shown in this lease will be charged to this entry in column Q. List additional buildings in order and enter an asterisk in column Q. Enter the building number and estimated appraised value in the Remarks column. (See note.)

NOTE: The land and buildings included in a lease will reflect the appraised value as of the time of negotiation of a lease, except leases obtained for $1 a year, nominal cost, donation, or similar circumstances amounting to a donation, wherein the appraised value or costs of making an appraisal far exceed the cost to the Government. All leases negotiated subsequent to 30 June 1954 will be appraised at time of negotiation.

28. Special Reporting Instructions. Real Estate in which the Air Force does not have a real estate interest is not to be reported in compliance with this Regulation. Therefore, for an Air Force organization or unit that operates as a tenant on an airport or jointly uses facilities of another service without benefit of a formal permit or agreement, a report will be made on only that portion of the airfield or base over which the Air Force maintains a real estate interest.

SECTION D—REPORTING AND CONTROL PROCEDURES

29. Acquisition Reporting:

a. Initial Inventory as of 30 June 1950 (see figure 7):

- (1) Requirement. The status of real estate interests in effect on 30 June 1950 will be submitted to Headquarters USAF as an initial submission. (See figure 6.) This initial submission will serve as the basic Air Force real estate inventory. The report will be submitted not later than 31 July 1954. Reporting will be by individual instrument in each interest acquired, except as indicated in b below.

- (2) Current Instruments. All current real estate instruments which were in effect on 30 June 1950 but which subsequently were modified or amended will be reported individually to reflect the real estate interest applicable on 30 June 1950. Changes thereto will be reported by subsequent reports to reflect current status.
- (3) Disposals and Cancellations. Real estate interests in effect on 30 June 1950 and subsequently disposed of or cancelled prior to 30 June 1954 will be reconstructed and reported by the disposing command. (See figure 6.) Disposition made of this real estate will be reported by subsequent reports to reflect current status. (See paragraph 31.)
- (4) Interim Acquisitions and Disposals. Real estate interests not on hand on 30 June 1950 but acquired and disposed of during period 30 June 1950 to 30 June 1954 will not be reported. (See figure 6.)
- (5) Condemnation Cases. Real estate interests undergoing condemnation proceedings on 30 June 1950 will be reported to reflect the interest, if any, entertained by the Government on that date. Subsequent reports will reflect appropriate changes in all such proceedings.

- (6) Fee Lands. For the Initial Inventory all fee-owned lands will be reported as one lump sum in columns P and Q for each installation.
- (7) Public Domain Lands. Such lands will be reported by individual instrument in order to reflect the:
 - (a) Temporary or permanent withdrawals. (Column K)
 - (b) Type document. (Column L)
 - (c) Land order number. (Column M)
 - (d) Acreage. (Column P)

b. Inventory Subsequent to 30 June 1950 (see figure 8):

- (1) Continuation of Inventory. Subsequent to the submission of the initial inventory, each command will submit, within 30 days thereafter, necessary AF Form 1154 reports to reflect the step-by-step acquisition of each individual interest from the date of the initial inventory to 30 June 1954. (See figure 6.) Thereafter, real estate interests will be reported within 10 days subsequent to the end of each month. This will be a continuing process. Negative reports are required.

TO BE REPORTED

FIGURE 6.

- (2) Supporting Documents. All data reported will be supported in field activity files by recognized and authenticated documents furnished by the acquisition agency, as listed in paragraph 20.

30. Public Works Program Reporting:

a. Reporting Phases. Contained herein are instructions for reporting data concerning the phases of a Public Works Program cycle indicated below:

- (1) The original submittal of an "Estimate of Requirements" by the major air commands. (See figure 9.)
- (2) The coordination and issuance of real estate directives to the acquisition agent. (See figure 10.)

b. Purpose of Reporting. The real estate portion of the Public Works Program has been incorporated herein to provide:

- (1) The means for presenting a composite picture of the planned and programmed real estate land requirements of the Air Force.
- (2) Data for correlation of the real estate requirements with the construction requirements for any fiscal year.

31. Disposal Reporting:

a. Scope of Disposal Reporting. All disposals of real estate interests, maintained by the Air Force or its components, will be reported whether disposal is by request or by the instruments' own terms. Disposal actions will be reported as they occur. Incremental disposals will be reported as indicated by figure 12. Real estate reported on hand as of 30 June 1950 and subsequently disposed of will be reconstructed by the disposing command and the report submitted by 30 June 1954. Disposal reporting thereafter will be submitted within 10 days subsequent to the end of each month, reflecting all final disposal actions transacted.

b. Disposal Reporting Phases. The disposal phases requiring a USAF Real Estate Report of Action are:

- (1) Phase A. The final declaration of excess by the Air Force after clearance with other Government agencies as to their requirement for the excess real estate interests; and the issuance of a directive authorizing the disposal agent to proceed with appropriate disposal actions. (See figure 11.)
- (2) Phase B. The report of the final dis-

32. Outgrant Reporting:

a. Scope. The reporting of all outgrant actions will not be back dated to 30 June 1950. Reporting will start as of 30 June 1954. The 30 June 1954 report will reflect the outgrants then in effect by individual documents. Thereafter outgrant actions negotiated or terminated will be reported within 10 days subsequent to the end of each month. All negotiated outgrants will be plus (+) entries. All terminated outgrants are complete minus (-) entries. Any modification in either area or cost, while an outgranted interest is in effect, will be reported as a plus (+) or minus (-) to the previously reported amount.

b. Effect on Inventory. The acreage or square feet reported will not be subtracted from the installation's current inventory status, since an outgrant is only a utilization of acquired land or building space.

c. Building Outgrants. All building or parts of a building that are outgranted by negotiated lease will be reported. A separate entry is required for each building outgranted, with the building numbers entered in the Remarks column. (See figure 13.) When an outgrant conveys both land and building rights, both will be shown, and the cost will be indicated in the manner specified in paragraph 27 for non-GSA leased space.

d. Costs. All outgrant costs reflected in column Q on the reporting form will be the amount received by the Government for such use.

33. Headquarters USAF Control Procedures:

a. Responsibilities. The Real Estate Division, Director of Real Property, has been designated as the processing center, within Headquarters USAF, for all AF Form 1154 reports submitted by reporting activities.

b. Processing Instructions. Detailed processing instructions for the effective control and processing of reports in Headquarters USAF, are published separately from this Regulation.

WHO REPORTS: MAJOR AIR COMMAND

1. Initial Inventory.
 - a. Enter data in all items and columns of the form that are shown with a check (✓).
 - b. Complete items BB and B to show the installation's current name designations reflected in pertinent General Orders, not the installation names applicable on 30 June 1950.
 - c. Show in item C the major air command presently assigned the real estate regardless of the holding command on 30 June 1950.
 - d. Enter the code "A5" in column H in all Initial Inventory reports. Subsequent corrections of data submitted in this report will carry this same "A5" designation.

As a special requirement the appraised or estimated round figure value of the land and every building acquired under each lease will be entered in the Remarks column. This is a one-time entry when the lease is initially reported and applies to all in-leases, for land and buildings.

Note: The land and buildings included in a lease will reflect the appraised value as of the time of negotiation of a lease, except leases obtained for $1 a year, nominal cost, donation, or similar circumstances amounting to a donation, wherein the appraised value or costs of making an appraisal far exceeds the cost to the Government. All leases negotiated subsequent to 30 June 1954 will be appraised at time of negotiation.
